COORG- -A District of Southern India under the jurisdiction of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore.

The Coorg country is formed by the summits and eastern declivities of the Western Ghats, which separate it on the south and west from the woody tracts of North Malabar (Wynnad) and South Canara (Tula); in the north and east it merges into the table land of Mysore with the only partially natural boundary of the rivers Kmaradhari, Hemavati, and Kaveri. Its greatest length from north to south, from the river Hemavati to the Brahmagiris, extends over sixty, and its greatest width from west to east, from Sumpaji to Fraserpet, about forty English miles. Geographically speaking, the whole country lies between N. Lat. 11° 53' and 12° 50', and E. Long. 75° 25' and 76° 14'. Before the annexation of Coorg by the English, the limits of this little kingdom extended over a larger tract, and included the two talooks of Canara, Amrasulya and Puttur, comprising an area of about 580 square miles, which, at the request of the inhabitants, were separated from Coorg, and added to the Collectorate of South Canara. In the absence of an accurate survey, the area of Coorg has been estimated at 2,000 square miles. Population, according to the census taken on the 14th November 1871, is 1,68,312 inhabitants.

CARLSON BINDER-BELTS

(REGISTERED).

FOR ACCOUCHEMENT OR ORDINARY WEAR,

AS SUPPLIED TO THE ROYAL COURTS OF EUROPE.

WITH

WITHOUT THE BELT.

PRICE ONE GUINEA.

CARLSON'S BINDER-BELTS are worn immediately after accouchement, superseding the old-fashioned method of binding, and they are also admirably adapted for ordinary wear with the present style of dress.

To ladies inclined to embonpoint they are invaluable, as they brace up, reduce, and at the same time support the figure, giving the wearer the greatest possible relief, without causing internal injury, and are strongly recommended by the medical profession.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS, &c.

SIRS,—I have much pleasure in giving my testimony in favour of your Binder-Belts, which I have recommended to my patients, who have derived much comfort and relief in their use.

Yours truly, RICHD. WEDD, M. R. C. S., England.

. . . Figures that have the slightest tendency to increase are braced in as carefully as possible. . . . these Binder-Belts leave nothing to be desired.—The Queen.

. . . A real comfort to ladies inclined to embonpoint . . . with them it is impossible to be improperly bandaged after an accouchement.—Myra's Journal.

. . . Should be included in every lady's outfit both for home and the colonies . . . well adapted to the present style of dress.—Court Circular.

. . . Light, easily applied, and in nowise cumbrous, and possesses the unusual advantage that it can be worn with the ordinary corset of every-day life.—Once a Week.

CARLSON'S BINDER-BELTS may be obtained from most of the principal Ladies' Outfitters and Drapers, or will be sent on receipt of One Guinea, by the Wholesale Agents, Herbert and Son, 148, Cheapside, London, E. C.

* * In sending order, state ordinary measurement round waist and hips, and if required for accouchement or ordinary wear.

Booksellers and Publishers to the Calcutta University.

THIS old house was established in 1819, in connection with Messrs. W. H. Allen & Co., booksellers and publishers to the Hon'ble East India Company, by the late W. Thacker, Esq., of the E. I. Co.'s Medical Service, and occupied the range of buildings now forming Old Court House Corner, facing St. Andrews' Church; hence the name which is still familiar, though it has long since ceased to be appropriate, "St. Andrews' Library." In the course of a few years, the business was removed to the southern portion of the premises now occupied by the Great Eastern Hotel; and in 1839 came finally to its present site, when Messrs. W. H. Allen & Co. ceased to have any connection with it, and the entire management passed into the hands of Messrs. Thacker, Parbury, and Spink. Mr. Thacker proceeded to England in 1836 and returned to India, 1842, and finally left Calcutta in 1843, from which time to the date of his death in 1872, he and Mr. Parbury conducted the London House. Mr. Spink, the present resident partner, joined the firm in 1838, and has been connected with it ever since, the major portion of the time superintending the Calcutta business.

The opening up of the N. W. Provinces seemed to present opportunities for the establishment of branch houses, and Messrs. Thacker, Spink, and Co. opened them at the stations of Allahabad and Lucknow. The former was finally disposed of some years ago, and the latter was destroyed during the Mutiny. Their Bombay house was established in 1851 under the management of the late Mr. Vining, and continues to be the principal bookselling firm in Bombay.

During its existence, the firm has published many highly important works, such as Macnaghten's edition of the Alif Laila, Sherring's Hindu Tribes, Cowell's Indian Digest, Mr. Field's valuable works on Indian Law, the Tagore Law Lectures, the Bengal Directory, and has encouraged the production of many valuable commentaries on Indian Law, and books for school use, such as Lathbridge's series of Histories, etc., Rowe and Webb's Study of English, and others, published under the immediate patronage of the University of Calcutta, besides initiating and publishing the standard series of Reports known as the Bengal Law Reports and the popular Weekly Reporter, and is now the sole agent for the sale of Macmillan's series of Indian School Books. The printing of these works is executed in their own printing office, and is quite equal to the general style of the best London work, having introduced into Calcutta a high standard of workmanship. Next to publishing, the bookselling business is the most important, and here the supply of standard works in science, Indian subjects, and general literature is unrivalled. Every new book of any importance is imported immediately on publication, and the supply punctually maintained; the stock of school books is very large, and adapted to all classes of students.

The miscellaneous department contains a large assortment of stationery, drawing materials, mathematical instruments, a variety of articles for presentation, requisites of all kinds for office or desk use, games, Frith's photo-pictures of India, etc. Special attention is also given to engraving and stamping crests, monograms, etc., and book-binding in every style, which is done on the premises.

Many years ago, the firm had an agency, which was honoured with the patronage of a large portion of H. M.'s Indian army, the rooms of which were thrown open to subscribers, offering almost the convenience of a club, being well supplied with books, and looking out upon the Governor-General's gardens, formed a favourite resort both for business and pleasure. In connection with the well-known London House, Messrs. W. Thacker and Co., of 87, Newgate Street, and Messrs. Thacker, Vining, & Co., of Bombay, every kind of commercial agency can be transacted with advantage and economy to constituents.—Calcutta "Statesman," 30th Dec. 1875.
